

GESS Career Development

A career change is a complex, life-changing step. Career shifts are never undertaken lightly. When changing your path, whether by switching companies or careers, you must consider many different factors. All of this may be also new to you if it is your first call from a GESS International headhunter.

What are your goals, personal and financial?

What is your true market value?

How should you manage your career to ensure your minimum financial and personal requirements are met?

Which companies offer opportunities that are in line with your goals?

Who can you trust to arrange a smooth step up into your next career-building position?

GESS International works with leading Fortune 500 corporations and with opportunity-rich start-ups from the Silicon Valleys of the world. We know who they want - it could be you.

Whether you are curious about current opportunities, researching to plan your future, or ready to consider a career move, talk to GESS International. Even if you're not seeking an immediate change, we can establish a professional relationship and be ready to present you as the candidate of choice should the right opportunity arise.

By working with GESS International, you will:

- Become more familiar with how you fit into the employment market in your field;

- Understand how to effectively change positions to achieve your goals;
- Be informed about current and upcoming opportunities;
- Be ready to capitalize on your skills and experience when the right opportunity is presented; and
- Obtain professional support to develop your resume, approach interviews and handle negotiations.

All at no charge to you - let us discuss it with you over a cup of coffee.
